

Music in Drumcliffe Launches Strings Attached

STRINGS ATTACHED: A MENTORING PROGRAMME FOR STRING QUARTET WITH THE VOGLER QUARTET, 2012 - 2014

In our search throughout 2012 for an existing quartet, or separate players wishing to form a new quartet, 25 participants of the highest standard in the country participated in auditions at the RIAM in November of last year. Two Quartets, Strings Attached and Strings Attached Junior, were chosen to enter this innovative programme dedicated to excellence. Strings Attached: A Mentoring Programme offers both quartets a unique opportunity to nurture potential in a professional environment, working alongside the internationally acclaimed VOGLER QUARTET.

MUSIC IN DRUMCLIFFE is delighted to have The Royal Irish Academy of Music host Strings Attached: A Mentoring Programme 2012- 2014 offering a learning space/mentoring initiative in which string quartets of varying ages, drawn from all over Ireland, can be coached by these leading exponents in an atmosphere which nurtures talent on a daily basis.

A Festival Message from Sligo Arts Service

Since its establishment in 2000, Music in Drumcliffe, formerly The Vogler Spring Festival, has developed into one of Ireland's leading international chamber music events and is one of the major highlights in the national music calendar of annual festivals. Renowned for its high standards of programming and a freshness in its choice of artists performing alongside the internationally acclaimed Vogler Quartet, Music in Drumcliffe welcomes you, our loyal audience and new visitor alike to the Land of Heart's Desire.

Sligo Arts Service works closely with Caroline Wynne, Artscope, the Vogler Quartet, the Arts Council of Ireland, and key stakeholders, most recently the Royal Irish Academy of Music, to ensure that Music in Drumcliffe retains its place as one of Ireland's most distinguished chamber music festivals. The festival is part of a strategic investment and focus on music and the development of the cultural and artistic life of the city and county by Sligo Borough and County Councils. Operating from County Hall, Sligo Arts Service delivers a programme of arts activities funded by Sligo County Council, Sligo Borough Council, the Arts Council of Ireland and key programme partners.
